YUMA, AZ (AP) - Sheriff's deputies in Yuma say they've arrested a youth pastor after he allegedly gave sex-related items to a girl.

The Yuma Sun reports the sheriff's office says the girl's mother told them 43-year-old Robert Warren had given the items to the girl.

Detectives interviewed the girl and she reportedly told them Warren told her he had obtained the items and had dropped them off at her house. The sheriff's office didn't identify the items.

Deputies went to Warren's home Wednesday and arrested him on two counts of providing harmful material to a minor. He reportedly admitted buying the items and delivering them to the victim's home.

He was being held Thursday on $63,500 bond. It isn't clear if he has a lawyer.
